Conceptual Framework: Vital Connections

The graduate counseling programs at Heidelberg University are based on a constructivist philosophy. This means that the pre-service candidates and in-service counselors-in-training in our programs build or construct their knowledge as a result of a student-centered, hands-on approach to learning. From the beginning of their experience at Heidelberg, our students are actively involved in their coursework and development of counseling skills and experiences.

Students build or construct their new knowledge about counseling using several tools - theory, practice, and reflection. These are the building tools that connect the constructivist core of the conceptual framework to each of the counseling licensure concentrations.

Heidelberg University MAC Standards

1. Theory - principles of human development, assessment systems & change
2. Practice - clinical and field experience
3. Reflection - thinking about, evaluating and revising one's philosophy of change.

Thus, constructivism is at the core of the conceptual framework, and the building tools of theory, practice, and reflection connect this core to each of the licensure programs.

Introduction

As you may know, you will need to complete a minimum of two formal field experiences in order to fulfill the requirements of your MAC degree (see the Graduate Studies Catalog). These include a one-semester practicum and at least two semesters of internship at an approved school or clinical counseling sites. The purpose of this handbook is to provide you with the necessary information, tools, and forms you will need to successfully negotiate the process of securing a field placement site and navigating the field experience.

The MAC program is specifically designed to prepare students to practice in the counseling field, which spans both clinical and school counseling. While it may be true that not all students who seek this degree plan to practice as professional counselors, our primary purpose is to educate, train and prepare professional counselors of the highest quality and competence.

As an applied profession, training in counseling requires hands on training and experience. Once you have your MAC degree, you will be a fully trained and competent counselor and there is nothing to stop you from becoming licensed and practicing in the field. Thus we take our role as counselor educators very seriously. The field experience is your capstone, designed to integrate all that you have learned through actual practice and serves as your final gateway into the field. During internship you will be assessed and evaluated for professional readiness not only by your instructor, but also by your site supervisor.

Your field experience will be among the last great push to the summit as you climb this mountain called the MAC degree. Despite some of the difficulty and frustrations you will face in this challenge, remember that this also represents the true beginning of your career as a counseling professional and represents your success in this program so far. Celebrate your success, enjoy the experience, and let this guide serve as a source that will minimize confusion and frustration as you move forward.

Overview

The masters program with concentrations in school counseling and in clinical counseling is designed to meet the standards set by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Many of the requirements for practicum and internship described in this handbook were adopted in order to meet CACREP standards. In addition, the practicum and internship experiences outlined here have been designed to comply with the counselor licensure standards of the Ohio Counselor, Social Worker and Marriage and Family Therapist Board, and the Ohio Department of Education. The requirements set forth by both of these bodies are extensive and demanding. Students who are working full time will have to make special efforts to accommodate these demands and allocate adequate time to complete these requirements. The MAC Practicum and Internship must be taken at Heidelberg University (i.e., transfer credit cannot be substituted for these courses).

This manual is designed to guide both students and site supervisors through the requirements and expectations of the field experience. The manual also is designed so that individual sections will address immediate questions, while the manual, as a whole will provide a comprehensive overview of the field placement programs. We encourage you to become familiar with this guide early in your program and then to refer back to it throughout the program when you have questions. Remember, although we have attempted to anticipate all questions in this guide, you may not find the specific answers you need here. All questions regarding field experience should be directed to your instructor or the Field Experience Coordinator.

Getting Started

As you read this, you may be feeling excited about this new venture in your life while at the same time feeling a bit overwhelmed and anxious. By now, you are starting to have a sense that this program has very high standards and will be quite challenging, so it is natural to wonder if you will make it through. When you look at all the courses you have to complete before you will even be able to consider practicum, much less internship, you might be inclined to think that you don’t need to worry about your field placements yet. This is basically true, but some pre-planning now will facilitate the transition into your field experiences and make the process smoother, increasing the likelihood that you will be able to get the best field placement for your particular needs.

From the beginning of your enrollment in the program, there are a couple important things that you need to consider in order to make sure you begin your practicum or internship on time.

1. Pre-requisite Courses. The MAC program is designed so that students are well prepared to begin fieldwork prior to their first placement. This means that all of your core courses are complete, or will be completed, during your first term in the field (practicum). As you plan your schedule and anticipate when you will begin your internship, it is critical that you plan your coursework and the timing of your field experiences accordingly.

2. BCI and FBI Background Checks. Prior to entering any field experience, you will need to complete and submit a criminal background check. While we are both understanding and forgiving of individuals’ “developmental struggles”, please be aware that neither the Ohio Department of Education (ODE) or the Ohio Counselor, Social Worker and Marriage & Family Therapy Board (OCSWMFT) are so forgiving. If you have anything that will appear on your criminal background check, you are strongly encouraged to discuss this with your advisor, the Field Experience Coordinator, or the Program Director as soon as possible. This would be an issue that you would rather not have to address later in the program after completing most of your coursework since a criminal record might prevent you from continuing or completing the program if you are found ineligible for licensure. If there is a potential issue here, please talk with us about it and let us assist in your decision making and planning.

Preparing to Apply for Practicum and Internship

Enrollment in practicum and internship is subject to, but not limited to, the following restrictions:

- You are a degree-seeking student, officially admitted to the MAC Program. Students from other programs generally are not permitted to complete practicum or internship in the MAC Program.
- You have been fully admitted into the program and are in good academic standing.
- You have completed all prerequisites for the practicum and internship courses and have completed practicum before petitioning for internship.
- You have been judged by departmental faculty to have demonstrated a suitable degree of personal, academic, and professional functioning to warrant admission into the practicum or internship.
- You are not impaired by emotional instability and/or personal use of drugs or alcohol. You have not been judged to be impaired in your competency or adequate functioning.
- Students will not be placed at a practicum or internship site where appropriate, qualified supervision is not available. As defined by CAPCREP and the state of Ohio, appropriate site supervisors have:
  - A minimum of a master’s degree in counseling or a related profession with equivalent qualifications
  - Relevant certifications and/or licenses;
• In Ohio, supervisors in school sites must be Licensed Professional School Counselors in Ohio
• Supervisors in clinical sites must be licensed as Licensed Professional Clinical Counselors with a Supervision Designation (LPCC-S). o A minimum of two (2) years of pertinent professional experience in the program area in which the student is completing clinical instruction; and o Knowledge of the program’s expectations, requirements, and evaluation procedures.
  o Relevant training in counseling supervision. Students must submit proof within the two years.

Important Dates and Deadlines

In order to be considered for a practicum or internship, you must submit all required documentation and signatures by the following deadlines. Petitions received after the deadline will not be approved. Missing the deadline means that you will not be able to begin your field experience before the following term cycle.

• June 1st for Fall Semester
• November 1st for Spring Semester
• March 1st for Summer Semester
Timelines to Enroll For Practicum or Internship

The following dates provide a guideline for what to prepare and when to begin preparation for each semester you might plan to enroll for a practicum or internship. Please use these timelines to guide you in preparation for enrolling into the practicum or internship course.

In order to meet the Petition Submission Deadlines stated above, we suggest you use the following outline to guide you as you prepare your Petition for Practicum or Internship.

Petitioning for a Fall Field Placement:

At least three months before the deadline, you should:

- Locate an appropriate host school or mental health agency.
- Contact the prospective site by phone and ask to speak to the person who handles counseling practicum or internship students.
  - In schools, this is usually the School Counselor or Principal.
  - In agencies, there may be an Internship Coordinator.
- After talking on the phone, this person typically will want to meet with you.
  - You should treat this meeting like a job interview.
  - Be sure to bring a copy of this manual, the most recent course syllabus, and the petition form for discussion with your potential supervisor. These documents will help to ensure that the site supervisor is well informed of the duties and responsibilities expected of them.

By the deadline, you must:

- Submit Petition for Practicum/Internship Form along with all required documentation as stated in this handbook to the MAC Program Administrative Assistant. Note: Your BCI/FBI should be completed at this time.
- Submit completed Site Agreement form with signature from your school or agency and submit to the MAC Program Administrative Assistant

Required Documentation

The following documentation is required for each practicum and internship site placement. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have completed the required documentation properly. Incomplete or improperly completed documentation will be returned to you, will cause delays in the processing of your petition, and may prevent you from proceeding with your field placement as planned. Please see Appendix C for a copy of all of the practicum and internship forms.

- Petition for Field Experience
  A Petition form MUST be filled out (1) each time you want to enroll for practicum or internship, (2) when you need to change a site or site supervisor, (3) when you wish to add an additional site, or (4) when circumstances change at your site. Although you may change sites from one semester to another, you will need to complete a new form for each term of field experience and any documentation that needs to be updated must be included. You must provide a proposed work schedule that ensures that the minimum number of hours required by your petition will be met:

  Practicum: The minimum acceptable hours on site will be 8 per week.
  Internship:
  - 100 hours → 8 hours per week
  - 200 hours → 16 hours per week
  - 300 hours → 24 hours per week
● Site Agreement Form
   The Site Agreement Form is a legal contract between the agency or school and Heidelberg University. You will not be approved for practicum and internship prior to having a signed agreement on file.

● Copy of Supervisor License, Certification or Verification
   - School counseling students can find verification on the ODE website.
   - Clinical students can verify the supervisor’s license on-line at: www.cswnft.ohio.gov
   - You will provide a print out of the site supervisor’s licensure verification from the appropriate website.

● Supervisor’s Resume – You must provide a resume from every site supervisor. A sample of this document can be found in Appendix B.

● BCI and FBI Background Checks
   All students must submit copy of a BCI and FBI background check. Additionally, all applicants for licensure (including Counselor Trainees) must submit to the OCSWMFT a BCI and FBI criminal background check. This also applies to those who intend to work in schools as well. Those with felony (and some misdemeanor) records may be ineligible for licensure in Ohio. Please be aware that the FBI background checks can take 8 to 10 weeks to complete. You will not be allowed to register for practicum and/or internship prior to completing this. Please note that BCI and FBI background are no longer valid after one year.

● Membership in a Professional Counseling Association
   You must provide proof of membership in the Ohio Counseling Association (OCA), the American Counseling Association (ACA), the Ohio School Counseling Association (OSCA), or the American School Counseling Association (ASCA). Student Memberships in ACA and ASCA are more expensive, but they also include professional liability insurance. Students who join OCA or OSCA must purchase liability insurance separately.

● Liability Insurance
   Although many schools and counseling agencies carry blanket liability insurance policies, and in some cases may tell you that you are covered by their policy, you MUST carry your own policy. Agencies and schools carry insurance to protect the agency or school. The degree to which you are protected in the event of an incident is limited. You will need a policy to protect you and your interests. You must present proof of application and a copy of your copy of your Declarations of liability insurance coverage (minimum $1,000,000 each incident, $3,000,000 aggregate). You will need to maintain this insurance coverage throughout your field experience. Liability insurance is available to students through the American Counseling Association (ACA), the American Mental Health Counselors Association (AMHCA), the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), or through insurance providers for a nominal fee. Heidelberg University does not endorse any single insurance carrier. Students who do not evidence adequate professional liability insurance with their Petition for Practicum or Internship will not be approved for the course. Please note that as your insurance expires. You will need to buy an updated policy and submit that information with any new Petitions.

● Copy of Your Most Recent DegreeWorks
   Print off a copy of your DegreeWorks and verify that you have completed the appropriate pre-requisite requirements. See page 7 for more details.

● Proof of Supervisor’s Training in Supervision
   Get a copy of your supervisor’s recent training (within the last two years) related to supervision. Heidelberg provides a supervision workshop and online supervision training as needed.
Site Requirements

You must meet any selection criteria established by the practicum or internship site. Be prepared to submit transcripts, résumé, and any other materials the site may require. Some sites may even require a drug screening. Expect to interview with the personnel department at the internship site prior to being accepted for an internship. Remember that acceptance is at the discretion of the site.

Your field placement may also require written informed consent from your clients’ parents or legal guardians before you as a student can provide counseling services. If your site uses written consent forms it is your responsibility to work with your site supervisor to ensure that the proper consent has been obtained.

Guidelines

Petition Process

Finding, securing, and finalizing a field experience site is a complex and involved process. In order to be successful, you need to start working on this in earnest early in the term prior to your planned practicum. The timelines and deadlines are in place to ensure that you have your work done in enough time to allow adequate time for the review process. Our goal is to ensure that you have the best possible field experience. To that end, we need time to review your proposal to make sure that it both meets your needs and fulfills the strict requirements of state, CACREP and CAEP guidelines.

Before beginning the petition process for practicum or internship, you must contact the Field Experience Coordinator (early in the semester prior to enrolling for practicum) to discuss your plan and determine the appropriate course of action. If you do not already have a site in mind, the Field Experience Coordinator will assist you in identifying potential sites. If you are planning to apply for the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program, you should also contact, the K.I.T.E. Program Coordinator (see page 24 -27).

Once your petition and accompanying paperwork has been completed, the Administrative Assistant will forward your packet to the Field Experience Coordinator for review. Your packet will be reviewed to ensure that your petition meets the standards set forth previously. The Field Experience Coordinator may contact you with questions or concerns in need of clarification. Petitions will not be approved until documentation is sufficient to ensure that the requirements of the practicum or internship will be met. Once approved, you will be notified of this and you will receive instructions on how to proceed.

You will not be able to register for practicum or internship until your petition has been approved and you have secured your field placement. Work at your placement site is expected to begin during the first week of the semester. For clinical counseling students, you are also required to obtain Counselor-in-Training (CT) status from the OCSWMFT Board. Once your petition has been approved, you will be instructed to visit www.cswmft.ohio.gov where you will find the application for CT status. This form is to be completed by you, signed by your site supervisor, and submitted to the Ohio Counselor, Social Worker, and Marriage and Family Therapy Board.

Evaluation and Grading of Practicum and Internship

In collaboration with your site supervisor, you will develop a job description or contract that will delineate your duties and responsibilities as a counseling intern. In some cases, schools and agencies already have a standard job description for counseling interns and you will simply review this with your supervisor and adjust it accordingly. Your instructor/training supervisor and/or the Field Experience Coordinator are available to assist in this process.

You should discuss your need for one hour of weekly face-to-face supervision with your site supervisor.

Updated: August 2018
prior to your start at the site. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are getting this on-site supervision time with your supervisor (see more about supervision on pp. 18-19). It is also your responsibility to ensure that your site supervisor receives a copy of this MAC Field Experiences Handbook, reviews the 10-minute Orientation video, and reviews the course syllabus. A Verification of Receipt of Handbook, Course Syllabus, and Orientation (p. 54) should be completed by your site supervisor and turned into your instructor at the start of the semester.

As a counseling intern, you are seen essentially in the same way you would be if you were a regular employee, and you will be held to the same professional standards as any employee. While it is understood that as a trainee, you will make mistakes, it is also understood that you will behave competently, professionally and ethically both in class and on site. Your internship may be subject to termination at any time should the MAC Program faculty supervisor, Field Experience Coordinator, or site supervisor judge your performance to be unsatisfactory, insubordinate, unethical, inappropriate, or otherwise harmful to clients or to the reputation of the internship site, the department, or the university. Therefore, it is essential that you maintain effective communication with your faculty supervisor and the Field Experience Coordinator about issues or events related to your internship so that they can be addressed in the best interest of you, your clients, your site, and Heidelberg University.

If you have difficulty securing clients or meeting the requirements for the course, you may be asked to drop the course and re-enroll at a more suitable time. Students who withdraw from a practicum or internship prior to its completion will not receive partial credit. Instead they will receive a “Withdrawal”, “Withdrawal/F” or an “Incomplete” depending on the circumstances. Incompletes are only given under extreme and unusual circumstances and should not be seen as an out because you couldn’t find time for your practicum or internship. If you believe that you will be unable to complete your course, you must talk with your instructor as early as possible to determine the best course of action for you. Students who, through no fault of their own, are unable to complete the hours required to satisfy their internship may be awarded an “Incomplete.” In such an event, the student will return the following term to continue work in their field experience for the duration of that term.

In addition, students will engage in a variety of activities to be evaluated by the faculty supervisor. These activities may include reflective journals, taped and transcribed counseling sessions, and participation in group supervision and lab activities during class.

Student Retention in the Practicum and Internship: Professional Conduct

As a student in the MAC program, you are expected to behave in a responsible and professional manner while functioning in your field experiences. Failure to conform to acceptable standards of practice may be considered cause for dismissal from the MAC Program. Cause for dismissal from practicum and/or may consist of, but may not be limited to:

- Receipt of an “F” in a practicum or internship course
- Dismissal from your field experience site
- Falsifying records or time logs, or inaccurate record-keeping
- Any conduct which is unbecoming of a counseling professional, either in a professional context (class, field experience, conferences or presentations), or in a public context including online and through social media.
- Any activity that is prohibited under the ethical standards and practices of the American Counseling Association (ACA) and/or the American School Counselor Association (ASCA).
- Any behavior, activity, procedure, or practice that is prohibited under the Counselor Licensure laws and Rules of the State of Ohio or the Ohio Department of Education.
- Malicious disrespect toward instructors, supervisors, or fellow students; failure to follow reasonable instructions; use of profanity or verbal or physical intimidation toward instructors, supervisors, or fellow students.
• The use of fraud or deceit to obtain admission to the MAC Program, a course, a practicum, or an internship.
• Soliciting or accepting a personal fee, monetary gift, or other form of remuneration or compensation for counseling or counseling-related services while functioning as a practicum student or as an intern.
• Use of alcohol or other drugs to the extent that it impairs the student’s ability to perform properly or adequately, or which may pose a threat to the welfare or safety of potential or actual clients.
• Conviction of an offense involving the sale, possession, or consumption of a controlled substance.
• Conviction of an offense that is a felony.
• Conviction of an offense involving moral turpitude.
• Conviction for a misdemeanor offense committed during the practice of any counseling activity.
• The opinion of counseling professionals, after due process that sufficient progress is not being made by the student.

MAC Grant Activity and Professional Conduct
The MAC program has recently received grants(s) that provide stipends for students in field experience. While the behaviors listed on the previous page will lead to consequences that could involve dismissal from the program, students who are receiving a stipend from a grant may also have financial consequences. If a student who is receiving a stipend from a grant program is removed from his/her site, the student will be required to pay back all money that was previously received.

Due Process
Students who wish to appeal retention decisions made by the MAC Program are free to do so and must follow the guidelines outlined in the Grade Appeals section of the course syllabus and the most recent edition of the Heidelberg University Graduate Catalog in order to have concerns addressed.

Confidentiality
Every counselor has the obligation to abide by the ethical standards established by his or her profession. The ACA code of ethics states, “Counselors respect their clients’ right to privacy and avoid illegal and unwarranted disclosures of confidential information.” Even though there are strong legal and ethical principles involved in the protection of client information, there are limitations on confidentiality. First, counselors are ethically obliged to break confidentiality if the client presents a clear and present danger of harming either him/herself or harming others, or reports elder abuse or child abuse. If while you are working in your field site and you have reason to suspect child or elder abuse, you must contact your supervisor and instructor immediately since counselors are legally required to notify the Department of Job and Family Services. Students never act on perceived reporting issues absent of consultation with their site supervisor, the university supervisor, and/or the Field Experience Coordinator.

The most likely reason a counselor might have to violate confidentiality is in a case of child abuse. The following may be helpful in identifying possible cases of child abuse:

1. Recognition:
   Child abuse/neglect becomes apparent to the counselor in one of two ways: either by direct verbal report or by being uncovered indirectly via the counseling process. When uncovered directly, it is usually via a report from the victim, perpetrator, or some other party involved with the victim or perpetrator. This is the most direct method and the position of the counselor is not to evaluate the authenticity of the report, at least not at this phase. This is the job of authorities such as the police and the Department of Family Services. However, it is also possible that the counselor may indirectly, through their work with clients or students, find evidence of abuse or neglect. Know your legal obligations.
2. Counselor Responsibility:

Counselors are obligated to report suspected cases of child abuse to the proper authorities and the supervisor, although caution must be exercised in evaluating the evidence. The intern needs to be concerned when several of the following characteristics are present.

3. Characteristics of Abuse or Neglect in Children:

There are general characteristics of child abuse applicable to both the perpetrator and victim. The most widely accepted characteristics for the abusive or neglectful parent are as follows:

- abused as children themselves
- socially and emotionally immature
- low self esteem
- expect children to act as adults
- cannot express frustration or anger via acceptable means
- expectations of their children are unacceptable given their ages
- violent marital discord
- abuse of alcohol and/or drugs
- inability to tolerate stress
- lack of adequate parenting skills
- ignore child's needs
- are guarded in discussing family relationships
- lack of appropriate role model

The most widely accepted general characteristics of the abused and/or neglected child are as follows:

- inappropriate hostility directed toward adults
- disruptive and destructive behavior
- passive and withdrawn behavior, crying easily
- fearful at times, not wanting to go home (or places where abuse has occurred)
- habitual absences or tardiness from school
- inappropriately dressed for the weather
- failure to thrive
- bruises, burns, or other unexplained marks
- chronically untreated medical needs
- constant hunger
- sexually oriented remarks
- sexually suggestive behavior
- discomfort of genital areas
- consistent high levels of anxiety

Reports of suspected child abuse or neglect should be made to the site supervisor, your university practicum or internship supervisor/instructor and the proper authorities as soon as possible after you become aware of the suspected abuse or neglect. Never report suspected abuse or neglect to authorities outside of your field site without prior consultation and guidance from your site supervisor and/or your university supervisor.

Dual or Multi-role Relationships

As you review the Petition for Practicum form, you will notice a question about Dual or multi-role relationships. In this case, we are concerned primarily with proposals for field experiences that will take place at the student’s place of employment. This practice is strongly discouraged. However, if you believe that your place of employment is the best option for you to have a successful field experience, you must contact the Field Experience Coordinator at least three weeks in advance of the due date of application. You will be required to have a meeting with your advisor to determine whether this can and will be approved. Prior to your meeting you must respond to the following prompts in writing and submit them to your advisor three days before your meeting:

1. Describe the dual/multi role relationship issues with this site/supervisor.
2. Describe and explain any potential problems that may arise due to the dual/multi role relationship.
3. Describe and explain how any potential problems that may arise due to the dual/multi role relationship will be minimized.
4. Please describe and explain if and/or how the multi role relationship will impact clients.

Dual or multi-role relationships occur when a professional relationship occurs on top of a separate pre-existing professional or personal relationship. For example, if your proposed site supervisor has supervising authority over you in another role (e.g., she’s your work supervisor), then you will be in a compromising and conflicted position in your role as a practicum student. Or, if your proposed site supervisor is a colleague, personal friend or family member, then they will be unable to be objective assessors of your work. In both of these examples, you could easily find yourself reluctant to disclose sensitive but vital information in supervision and they might be reluctant to recognize and address real concerns about you as a student. In order to have an ethically sound and successful supervisory experience, it is critical that your site supervisor be as objective and neutral as reasonably possible.

This concept of multi-role relationships is more complex than this, however. When you work at your site as a teacher or a case manager, then this is the role that everyone at that school recognizes as yours. Thus, it is very difficult for you to be presented as the Practicum Student and have students and colleagues recognize you in that role and treat you accordingly. Consequently, it can be very difficult for you to step out of your role as Teacher or Case Manager and into your role as Counselor in Training because people are unable to see you in this new and very different role.

Students who seek to do their field experience at their place of employment must document any multi-role relationships and provide a written plan for how these will be avoided. This plan must demonstrate that there will be a clear distinction between the people you work for and the duties you perform in your role as a counselor and those in your role as a teacher or case manager. It should be clear from your schedule, for example, that the time that you are working as a counselor is not the same as the time that you are at school working as a teacher or your agency working as a case manager— you cannot perform as a counselor simultaneously to performing as a teacher or case manager. These are distinctly different jobs and you must have appropriate experiences accordingly.

The easiest way to avoid these difficulties is to complete your field experience at a separate location from your regular job. For example, if you are a middle school teacher, consider doing your practicum at either an elementary or high school. If you work for a mental health agency, doing your field experience at a different branch location solves the conflict. Often this can be done quite conveniently and avoids the problems and the paperwork associated with multi-role relationships.

Petitions for field placements at your place of employment that fail to adequately address these conflicts will not be approved.

...The Graduate Studies in Counseling Program

- The Field Experience Coordinator will assure that you will have completed the necessary prerequisite academic work before you begin your field experience.
- Your instructor and the Field Experience Coordinator will be available to you and your site supervisor for consultation.
- The Field Experience Coordinator will function as a liaison between the site and the MAC program; however, the site supervisor is encouraged to initiate contacts with the MAC program whenever necessary.

- For practicum and internship students, the instructor will provide student supervisees with weekly group training supervision.
  - Training supervision will focus on the development of the student’s counseling skills and counselor identity. The practicum instructor will also monitor the progress of the student.
  - When advanced students or licensed teaching assistants are assigned to assist the field experience instructor with training supervision, they will do so under the direct supervision of the MAC field experience instructor.

- The MAC Program ultimately will determine the appropriateness of field placement sites. Sites that do not meet our criteria and are deemed inappropriate as training sites will not be approved.

- The MAC Program ultimately will determine the appropriateness of the site supervisor.
  - School: Only those with a Masters in Counseling, who are licensed Professional School Counselors, and have a minimum of two years of professional experience as a PSC, and who are not in the first year at their current school, will be permitted to serve as site supervisors.
  - Clinical: Only those with a Masters in Counseling and who are Licensed Professional Clinical Counselors with a Supervision Designation (LPCC-S) will be permitted to serve as site supervisors.
  - Both: Site supervisor may have no more than three Heidelberg University students under supervision at the same time.

- The MAC Program may request the termination of a Site Agreement if the site supervisor does not abide by the following:
  - Ethical standards and practices set forth by the American Counseling Association and/or the American School Counselor Association.
  - Applicable licensure laws related to supervision.
  - Standards and practices set forth by the MAC program and articulated in this document.

- The Field Experience Coordinator, MAC Faculty Supervisor, or other MAC Faculty representative, will visit the field placement site and meet with the site supervisor to discuss the student’s performance and progress.

- The MAC program, and/or its faculty as agents of the MAC program, has the authority and responsibility to terminate any Site Agreement where the student’s performance is judged to be unsatisfactory, insubordinate, unethical, inappropriate, or harmful to clients. Such action would only be taken after consultation with the student and with representatives of the practicum site.

- The MAC Program reserves the rights to amend, change, or otherwise modify its policies regarding the field experience from time to time as may be deemed necessary or appropriate to maintain compliance with the Ohio Revised Code, CACREP, OCSWMFT, and CAEP Standards and/or other governing bodies affecting counselor education and training.

- The MAC Program may, at its discretion, waive any or all policies on a case-by-case basis if and when deemed appropriate by the MAC Program.

- Practicum and Internship grades will reflect the evaluation of the student by both site and university supervisors, with the instructor, having the final responsibility for grade assignment.
The Field Placement Site

- Field placement sites screen and select students based on their appropriateness for placement at the school or agency.
- For practicum students, the site provides a site supervisor who will be on-site when the practicum student is present for the practicum.
  - School Counseling Site Supervisors must be Licensed Professional School Counselors.
  - Clinical counseling site supervisors must be Licensed Professional Clinical Counselors with a Supervision Designation (LPCC-S).
  - The site supervisor orients the student to the policies and procedures of the site and oversees the student’s compliance with those policies and procedures.
  - The site provides experience in the delivery of services appropriate to the educational level and ability of the student.
- The site recommends students’ clients based on the following:
  - For Practicum Students in School Counseling:
    - The best clients for school counseling practicum students are those with normal developmental concerns and/or mild family or school adjustment problems.
    - Examples might include student clients who have low self-esteem, test anxiety, relationship problems, peer pressures, or adjustment issues, to mention a few.
    - Students who are suicidal, violent, who have chronic behavior problems, those with mental or emotional disorders, and those involved in custody disputes or victims of abuse generally are not appropriate for this practicum experience.
  - For Practicum Students in Clinical Counseling:
    - The best clients for community counseling practicum students are those with mild to moderate concerns suitable for short-term treatment such as: academic or career related issues, stress management, parenting issues, grief and separation, life adjustment, self-esteem, and relationship problems.
    - Clients with serious mental or emotional disorders and/or those who have tendencies toward suicide or violence and children less than 12 years of age are generally not appropriate for practicum students unless they have completed the appropriate courses.
    - Because work with younger children requires special skills, students who have not completed the course in counseling children should not work with children absent of very close supervision.
  - For Internship Students:
    - Students in internship are expected to perform all the duties and responsibilities and work with any client situation that a professional school or clinical counselor would perform (under supervision).
    - The site supervisor and/or agency is responsible for informing clients and, as appropriate, parents that a graduate student will see them.
    - The site insures sufficient client referrals to meet the needs of the student.
      - It is expected that practicum students will accumulate a minimum of 40 direct individual and group client contact hours during the course of their practicum.
      - It is expected that internship students will accumulate a minimum 240 direct individual and group client contact hours during the course of their two internships.
• The site provides appropriate space, equipment, and supplies as needed by the student to carry out site duties and assignments.
• The site supervisor is responsible for providing one hour per week of formal supervision for the student and is available for consultation as needed to ensure client welfare and supervisee development.
  o Supervision will focus on necessary counseling interventions to promote client welfare and will promote the development of the student’s professional identity as a counselor.
• The site and site supervisor hold ultimate responsibility for the welfare of the student’s clients and for the student’s work under their supervision.
• The site supervisor will complete two written evaluations provided by the student (see Forms appendix D) of the student’s knowledge, skills, and personal and professional development during the field experience.
• The site supervisor is strongly encouraged to initiate contact with the Field Experience Coordinator when there are any questions or concerns regarding the student, expectations, or responsibilities.
• The site has the right to request the termination of a Site Agreement when the student’s performance is in violation of site policies or procedures, or when the student’s performance is judged to be unsatisfactory, insubordinate, unethical, inappropriate, or harmful to clients.
• The site supervisor and site agree to abide by the policies and procedures stated in this manual.
• The site supervisor and site, in their treatment of students, shall abide by the ethical standards and practices set forth by the American Counseling Association and the American School Counselor Association.

...The Practicum or Internship Student

• The student completes a mandatory field placement orientation.
• The School Counseling Student must get an in-depth experience in school with at least two different levels (e.g. Elementary, Middle, High) and they must get 16 hours in the third level over the entire practicum and internship field experience.
• The student is responsible for identifying and securing an appropriate site before enrolling in the course and submitting signed Petition and Site Agreement Forms by the deadlines.
  o Students will not be allowed to enroll in the practicum or internship course prior to securing an appropriate site.
  o In the unlikely event that a field site loses its ability to provide the agreed upon field experience (i.e. the site supervisor leaves), and an alternate site cannot be secured, the student will be dropped from the practicum or internship.
• Although the MAC Program will assist the student, the MAC Program is not responsible for placement of students into an appropriate site. Students are ultimately responsible for finding and securing a site appropriate for field experience.
• The student shall at all times conduct his or her behavior in accordance with the policies and procedures of the field placement site and with the ethical standards of the American Counseling Association (ACA), the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), State of Ohio Laws, and other applicable standards of conduct.
• The student maintains a work schedule that has been mutually agreed upon by the student and the site supervisor. The student notifies the site supervisor of any anticipated absence and discusses any necessary schedule changes.

• Practicum students typically see two to three ongoing individual clients and at least one group counseling session (when available) per week as deemed appropriate by the site supervisor and are required to obtain 40 hours of direct client counseling experience over the course of the practicum experience.

• Practicum and Internship Clinical students should have experience with individual counseling, group counseling, and diagnosis and treatment.

• Practicum and Internship School students should have experience with individual counseling, group counseling, and delivering classroom guidance.

• The student demonstrates satisfactory knowledge, skills, and attitudes in the applicable competencies identified on the performance evaluation.

• Students are expected to be introspective, open, and receptive to feedback, and demonstrate flexibility by making appropriate changes in response to feedback.

• The student must report any emergency or crisis situations with their clients immediately to their site supervisor, and their instructor.

• The student attends individual and group supervision sessions as scheduled.

• The student keeps accurate records of weekly client contact hours, indirect hours, and supervisory hours (see Forms appendix).

  o The student coordinates a meeting between the site supervisor and MAC Program Supervisor to take place between Week 5 and finals week. When a site has more than one student concurrently, one meeting to discuss multiple students may be sufficient.

  o At their discretion and as needed, either the instructor or site supervisor may initiate additional meetings, in person or over the phone during the semester.

• The student completes all educational plans that may be developed with either their supervisor or the instructor.

• If either the MAC Program or the field placement site terminates the placement, the student has a right to an explanation of the reasons for termination.

  o Students have the right to due process and may appeal any MAC Program decisions with which they disagree.

  o Like employers, practicum and internship sites retain students “At Will” and may terminate these relationships at any time for any reason. Although the MAC Program may choose to advocate on behalf of students, students must understand that the MAC Program ultimately has no authority in these matters.

Understanding Supervision

Regardless of your program, clinical supervision will be an essential component of your training and will continue to be emphasized throughout your time in the MAC Program. You begin to receive clinical supervision of your counseling skills early in your training when you take COU 505 (Techniques in Counseling) and you will be required to continue to work under supervision until well beyond your completion of the MAC degree. Indeed, ethically, you will be expected to maintain supervisory relationships throughout your career as a professional counselor. In order to get the most from your supervisory relationships, you first need to understand the concept of clinical supervision in counseling.
Definition of Supervisor

Your site supervisor will be the person who has direct responsibility for monitoring and evaluating your performance at your field placement site.

School Counseling Supervisors - Persons qualified to supervise students at a School Counseling site must have a minimum of a Masters Degree in Counseling, be licensed as a school counselor, and have at least two years of experience as a school counselor, and this must not be their first year at their current school.

Clinical Counseling Supervisors - Persons qualified to supervise students at a Community Counseling site must have a minimum of a Masters Degree in Counseling, a minimum of two years field experience, and be a Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor with a Supervision Designation (LPCC-S).

Definition of Supervision

A working definition of supervision might include: “An intervention provided by a more senior member of a profession to a more junior member or members of that same profession. This relationship is evaluative, extends over time, and has the simultaneous purposes of enhancing the professional functioning of the more junior person(s), monitoring the quality of professional services offered to the client(s) she, he, or they see(s), and serving as a gatekeeper of those who are in the particular profession “ (Bernard & Goodyear, 1998, p. 6).

Other definitions include, “an intensive, interpersonally focused one-to-one relationship in which one person is designated to facilitate the development of therapeutic competence in the other person (Loganbill, Hardy, & Delworth, 1982, p. 4); and “an ongoing educational process in which one person in the role of the supervisee acquires appropriate professional behavior through an examination of the trainee’s professional activities” (Hart, 1982, p. 12).

In summary, supervision is an intensive educational process that facilitates the therapeutic competence of the supervisee over time, while ensuring and emphasizing client welfare.

Supervision serves the simultaneous functions of:

- Enhancing professional functioning of the supervisee
- Monitoring the quality of the professional services provided to clients
- Serving as a gatekeeper to those entering the profession.
- Fundamental and primary purpose of supervision is the development of the supervisee.

The supervisor will often serve a variety of functions and roles while supervising these include:

- Administrative Supervision
- Supervisor as Teacher
- Clinical Supervision
- Supervisor as Counselor, Note: Supervision is not counseling, but is a circumscribed set of skills that monitor the supervisee’s personal self and how it impacts the quality of the service provided by the supervisee
- Supervisor as Consultant
- Supervisor as Evaluator

Methods of Supervision

Supervision can be provided through a variety of modalities. Supervision can be provided individually or in groups. It may involve consultations, observation, audio or videotaping, verbal instruction, role-plays, demonstrations, assignment of readings, etc. Minimally, practicum and internship students should meet with their site supervisor for at least one (1) hour of individual or triadic supervision per week throughout Updated: August 2018 the field placement. Additional hours of supervision may be either on an individual or a group basis as needed and arranged between the student and the supervisor. The MAC Program will provide at least an average of 1.5 hours per week of group supervision on a regular schedule throughout the practicum and internship experiences.

Policy for Participating in Online Group Supervision during Field Experience

Heidelberg University's Masters of Arts in Counseling (MAC) Program encourages students to complete his or her field experience throughout the State of Ohio. This sometimes creates barriers for students who need to travel long distances to participate in the field experience course, while trying to accumulate the necessary field experience hours, which can range from eight hours to 24 hours per week. Consequently, MAC faculty will consider allowing students to join class remotely who are completing their placement over 160 miles one-way from Heidelberg University. If you meet the requirement and would like to join class remotely, please email the instructor with an explanation of your circumstances. If you do not live over 160 miles one-way from the campus, online supervision is NOT an option. You will then need to meet with the instructor to work out any and all arrangements. You can expect that you will be required to attend at least some of the classes in-person. The instructor will document the arrangement and you and the instructor will sign the agreed upon documentation.

Note: Each case will be considered on an individual basis and can be changed by the instructor at any time with sufficient notice to students involved.

MAC Program Support of On-site Supervisors

The site supervisor and other on-site staff share in the responsibility for the cooperative design and implementation of the student’s field experience. MAC Program faculty supervisors are available to consult with site supervisors regarding methods of supervision and will provide in-service training in supervision annually.

Field Experience Hours

To complete your practicum experience, you must accumulate a minimum of 40 hours of direct service with clients in individual and group experiences. It is our expectation that you will exceed this minimum standard for direct service.

To complete your internship experience, you will be required to complete a total of six (6) semester hours of internship over two courses. You will accumulate a minimum 300 hours for COU 581/596 Internship I and 300 hours for COU 582/597 Internship II. Each course may be taken for between 1 to 3 semester hours allowing you the flexibility to tailor your field experience to the demands of your schedule. Semester hours for internship are awarded on the basis of clock hours served in counseling or counseling-related activities while at the internship site. Semester hours are awarded at the rate of one one-semester hour for every 100-clock hours served at the internship site for a total of 600 clock hours. A minimum of 40% of these hours must be in direct service to clients. Direct contact hours are those in which you are working face-to-face with clients either in individual, couples, family, or group counseling. It is our expectation that you will exceed this minimum standard for direct service.

Observation hours may NOT count as direct contact time. You may have to accumulate more than the minimum overall number of hours (600) in order to meet the 240 direct clock hour requirements. Hours from one semester to another may not be carried over.
Earning Practicum/Internship Hours During the Break

It is strongly encouraged that you remain at your site in between semesters and over breaks to maintain client continuity. In order to stay at your site and count hours during the breaks the following conditions must be met:

1. The student, faculty supervisor, site supervisor, and Field Experience Coordinator approve the arrangement.
2. All concerned parties in (i) must sign the Request for Approval for Earning Practicum/Internship Hours During the Break form and copy must be submitted to the Field Experience Coordinator before the end of the semester.
3. The student will follow all the procedures outlined in the practicum and internship manual regarding record keeping (e.g. case summaries, weekly logs and journals).
4. The student will abide by the agency’s protocols regarding emergencies and will keep the advisor and the faculty supervisor apprised in the event of such an occurrence.
5. The practical experience continues at the same site and the student receives a minimum of one hour of supervision for every twenty hours of service. The advisor and the faculty supervisor must approve a change of the site supervisor.
6. The student is registered for the internship/practicum course in the semester following the period during which the hours were earned.
7. Attend all the mandatory seminar classes during the semester.
8. The hours accumulated during the break will only be applied to the total required hours after the faculty supervisor has discussed the student’s performance with the site supervisor and reviews the site supervisor’s evaluation of the student.
9. Students are still encouraged to meet the total number of hours in each class. Remember, the hour requirements are minimum requirements.

Field Placements

An appropriate field placement site allows the student to obtain audio or video tapes for use in the supervision of the student’s interactions with clients and provides the opportunity for the student to gain supervised experience in the use of a variety of professional resources such as assessment instruments, computers, print and non-print media, and professional literature and research.

School Settings

By the end of your field experience, you should have completed at least 10 hours of direct contact time at each level. See the Documentation of Required Counseling Experiences (School) (p. 52).

Documentation should be obtained when you have completed the experience. The completed forms will be placed in your file and a copy should be included in your portfolio.

Clinical Settings

Activities and Duties

Clinical counseling practicum students are expected to work with real clients in mental health agency settings in which they begin providing services as though they were professional counselors. Under Ohio law, the practice of professional counseling means rendering or offering to render to individuals, groups, organizations or the general public a counseling service involving the application of clinical counseling principles, methods or procedures to assist individuals in achieving more effective personal, social, educational or career development and adjustment, including the diagnosis and treatment of mental and emotional disorders.

Clinical counseling principles, methods, or procedures means an approach to counseling that emphasizes the counselor's role in systematically assisting clients through all of the following: assessing and analyzing background and current information, diagnosing mental and emotional disorders, exploring possible solutions and developing and providing a treatment plan for mental and emotional adjustment or development. Clinical counseling principles, methods or procedures includes at least counseling, appraisal, consulting and referral.

Appropriate activities that constitute direct service may include:

- Conducting intakes and diagnostic assessments.
- Providing individual, couples and family counseling services.
- Leading or co–leading any of the following types of groups:
  - therapy group,
  - support group,
  - drug awareness/treatment group,
  - education group,
  - other groups consisting of real clients and are similar to the kind of groups the student will lead as a counselor.

Agencies that solely focus on substance abuse and chemical dependency counseling are not considered appropriate sites.
Students must gain experiences working with both adults and children.

K.I.T.E. Scholars Program Field Placement and Stipend

MAC students who have met all the necessary requirements to formally begin their practicum and internship field experience detailed within the Field Placement Handbook can choose to participate in a special grant program entitled K.I.T.E. (Keep Interdisciplinary Teams Evolving) Scholars Program. To take advantage of this opportunity the candidate must have successfully completed an application to participate in the program (See Appendix D “Forms”), have carefully read, agreed to and signed the Letter of Commitment (See Appendix D “Forms”) and have been approved to participate in the program by the Program Coordinator and Director.

K.I.T.E. Scholars Program is a HRSA/BHWET grant awarded to Heidelberg University’s Master of Arts Counseling (MAC) program to develop and expand the behavioral health workforce by increasing the number of graduates in MAC who are prepared and committed to provide integrated behavioral health services to individuals, groups, couples and families across the lifespan in rural, vulnerable and medically underserved areas.

Two of the six objectives of the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program create special opportunities for MAC students in the final year of field placement: 1) integrated behavioral health field experience, and 2) internship stipend.

All requirements, rights, duties and responsibilities of the practicum and internship field experience including program obligations, field placement sites, the student and supervisor as detailed in the Field Placement Handbook apply to students involved in the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program. Additional requirements for the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program participation are outlined below in regards to field placement site and stipend.

Integrated Behavioral Health Field Experience

The successful candidate in the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program will choose a field placement site with the following site profile in mind.

MAC/HU is building partnerships with behavioral health and educational sites that have integrated opportunities for field placements. This will not only expand opportunities for students to assist particularly in rural, vulnerable and medically underrepresented regions that serve families with racial, ethnic, cultural, and linguistic diversity but also provide them with experience working in interdisciplinary teams.

Those students who complete their internships in schools have the benefit of interdisciplinary collaboration with professionals such as nurses, school psychologists, intervention specialists, social workers and school-based clinical mental health counselors. Selected schools will be chosen based on diversity demographics and the percentage of students who receive free lunch due to their socio-economic status.

Internship Stipend

The cost of a graduate education can be a barrier to those students desiring to enroll in a program such as MAC. Financial issues can be the result of lack of financial aid, struggle with meeting living expenses as students reach the internship portion of their program and the burden of unpaid internships. With BHWET support, MAC/HU will provide stipends for students to aid in removing the financial barrier they may experience. The total amount of the stipend is $10,000 ($5,000 for each of the two final semesters) for students beginning the internship portion of their program.

Qualifications

Stipends will be distributed by HU’s business office on a monthly basis in collaboration with the K.I.T.E. Scholars Program Project Director and MAC Program Director/K.I.T.E. Project Director. Students will be eligible for a maximum 12-month stipend if they meet the following criteria:

1. Enrollment in HU’s MAC program at the internship level as evidenced by successful completion of all courses required up to that point.
2. Completion of a K.I.T.E. Scholars Program application, and an essay describing an interest and understanding of the importance of interdisciplinary teamwork in rural, vulnerable, and/or medically underserved communities as well as partnering with primary care practitioners and professionals from other disciplines; any prior experience that might assist their success; expectations they have professional development as a result of working in K.I.T.E. Scholars Program; and a detailed plan for their post graduate employment.
3. Currently in good academic standing as defined by HU’s graduate studies program.

Terminology

Integrated Behavioral Health Care: The care a patient experiences as a result of a team of primary care and behavioral health clinicians, working together with patients and families, using a systematic and cost-effective approach to provide patient-centered care for a defined population.

Interdisciplinary Teams: “A dynamic process involving two or more health professionals with complementary backgrounds and skills, sharing common health goals and exercising concerted physical and mental effort in assessing, planning, or evaluating patient care. This is accomplished through interdependent collaboration, open communication and shared decision-making. This in turn generates value-added patient, organizational and staff outcomes.”

Medically Underserved Areas and Populations: Populations in a geographic location with limited access to primary care. This may be due in part to economic, cultural, racial, ethnic or linguistic barriers to receive the care they need. Through HPSA, MAC has identified the surrounding counties of Seneca, Sandusky, Huron, and Erie as well as the cities of Cleveland, Toledo and Columbus as underserved areas.

Counseling Competencies Scale (CCS)
Contributing Authors (2008)

The Counseling Competencies Scale (CCS) assesses counseling students’ skills development and professional competencies. Additionally, the CCS provides counseling students with direct feedback regarding their counseling skills and professional dispositions (dominant qualities), offering the students practical areas for improvement to support their development as effective and ethical professional counselors.

Scales Evaluation Guidelines

- Exceeds Expectations / Demonstrates Competencies (4) = the counseling student demonstrates strong (i.e., exceeding the expectations of a beginning professional counselor) knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the specified counseling skill(s) and professional disposition(s).

- Meets Expectations / Demonstrates Competencies (3) = the counseling student demonstrates consistent and proficient knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the specified counseling skill(s) and professional disposition(s). A beginning professional counselor should be at this level at the conclusion of his/her practicum and/or internship.

- Near Expectations / Developing towards Competencies (2) = the counseling student demonstrates inconsistent and limited knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the specified counseling skill(s) and professional disposition(s). Students scoring at this level during their final practicum evaluation (be it practicum or internship) have not demonstrated the professional competencies needed to progress to the next level of clinical experience. Remediation may be necessary in these areas.

- Below Expectations / Insufficient / Unacceptable (1) = the counseling student demonstrates limited or no evidence of the knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the specified counseling skill(s) and professional disposition(s). Students scoring at this level during their final evaluation (practicum or internship) have not demonstrated the professional competencies needed to progress to the next level of clinical experience. Remediation may be necessary in the areas identified as deficient by the clinical supervisor.

Counseling students NOT scoring at level Two (2) or Above for Practicum or an average of Three (3) or Above by Internship will NOT be eligible to progress to their next stage of clinical experience.

Site Visit Guidelines

Guidelines: The university supervisor will begin the visit by reminding both the student and the site supervisor that this is an informal meeting designed to focus on what the student has been doing and learning and to discuss what will happen during the rest of the field experience. It is an opportunity for both the student and the supervisor to be open and candid about the internship experience. The university supervisor will ask for a tour at the beginning or the end of the visit. Depending on the site, university supervisors may not be able to access much of the site.

Each site visit is unique and should be allowed to take on its own “life.” In order to move things along, think about these as a few questions for the student and university supervisor:

- In general, how are things going so far?
- What experiences are the student getting? (group, individual, family, couples, diagnosis and assessment, children, etc.)
- What type of diagnoses/concerns/issues is the student seeing?
- What is in the future for the field experience practice? What new projects or assignments will develop?
- What do you see as areas of strength for the student?
- What would you like to see the student focus on in his or her own development?
- Please give feedback on the supervisee’s counseling skills and professional behavior.

University supervisors must verify that these things are taking place?

- Weekly 1-hour individual meetings with site supervisor (required).
- Site supervisor observes student’s counseling sessions and provides feedback (required).
- Student has access to site supervisor in the event of a crisis (required).
- Dyad/small group supervision.
- Site supervisor allows student to observe his/her counseling sessions.
- Site supervisor allows student to observe/co-facilitate groups.
- Site supervisor recommends readings for student based on her/his observations of student.

Here are a few questions for the student:

- What have you been learning so far? (“A lot” is not an acceptable response!)
- What surprises have you had about the field experience, the organization or yourself?
- What areas do you think you are doing well?/What areas do you see as your strength?
- What skills or tasks would you like to work more on?
- Are there things you would like to learn or do that you haven’t had the opportunity to do yet?
- Is this experience sending you messages about what you would—and would not—like to do in the future?

Appendix E: Procedures for Applying for Professional School Counseling License

Note: In Ohio, you need a Professional Pupil Services license to be a school counselor. If you have another education license, you still apply for the Pupil Services in counseling license as an initial license. These procedures assume that you are in internship, and are on track to graduate. Your application process should begin no earlier than your internship, and you should be in good standing with the program.

1. Visit the ODE licensure website and create a SAFE Account (if you have a SAFE account already, log in, and ensure all information is up-to-date):
   https://safe.ode.state.oh.us/portal/signup/signup

2. From your SAFE account, you will select APPLY from the CORE menu. Select the Professional Pupil Services license in school counseling, click on APPLY to start the process. ODE no longer accepts paper applications.

3. If your BCI/FBI check is, or is more than, a year old, you will need to get a new one before applying for initial licensure. This must be electronically sent to ODE – ODE does not accept paper copies of your background check.

4. You must obtain a passing score on the Ohio Assessment for Educators #040. A passing score is 220. You can register for the test and pay the registration fee, as well as find study materials, here: http://www.oh.nesinc.com/

   • If you have questions about your license, or the licensure procedure, you can contact the Office of Educator License at (phone) 614-466-3593 or (email) educator.licensure@education.ohio.gov.
